Elections Test Labor Power

MUNICIPAL VOTE TO BE HELD TODAY

Significant off-year elections present a test today of organized labor's strength as an independent force at the polls.

Labor sought to win control of the city governments of Detroit, Akron and Canton, O., and Duquesne and Clairton, Pa.

The Committee for Industrial Organization and American Federation of Labor were vigorous opponents in Detroit, but fought side by side in Akron and Canton.

The American Labor party, C. I. O. dominated, hoped to poll 750,000 votes for the re-election of Mayor F. H. La Guardia in New York City, where the future of Tammany Hall was at stake.

Centers in Detroit

Labor's campaign was centered in Detroit, where, for the first time, a candidate backed by the C. I. O. ran for mayor against a candidate backed by the A. F. of L.

The C. I. O. supported Patrick H. O'Brien, former attorney general of Michigan, while the A. F. of L. sponsored Richard W. Reading, city clerk. The C. I. O. also had a slate of candidates for the Detroit city council.

In Akron, Municipal Judge G. L. Patterson, Democrat, had the support of both labor organizations against Mayor Lee D. Schroy, and in Canton the labor groups backed Darrell D. Smith, Democrat, against Mayor James Seccombe.

Labor Groups Battle

The C. I. O. was on its own in

Setback To Prosperity Predicted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 2.—(UP)—

Department of Agriculture economists predicted today that the current business recession may be the fore-runner of the first general setback to prosperity in four years.

The slump probably will continue until late next year, they said, and during that time, wholesale prices, national income and industrial production will decline.

The forecast was made by the bureau of agricultural economics in its review of the economic situation and prediction of future trends. Forecasts in previous years were said to have been "remarkably accurate."

Not Major Depression

The economists described the situation as "one of the relatively short recessions" that usually hindered Japanese military forces.

Hostile Attitude

"Such an attitude cannot be deemed to be within the proper confines of a neutral third power but must be considered as evincing a hostile attitude against Japan," the resolution said.

"Even if this is followed by aggravation of the China situation, the responsibility must rest with Great Britain while the Japanese must desire to depart from the traditional policy toward Britain.

"While Japan will not allow the

BRITAIN IS TERMED AS "HOSTILE"

TOKYO, Nov. 2.—(UP)—

The Meirinai party, one of the smaller groups in the lower house, adopted a resolution today charging Great Britain with a "hostile attitude toward Japan" in the Sino-Japanese conflict.

Authorities here said Gov. A. B. Chandler had ordered national guardsmen from Harlan and Barboursville on duty. It was estimated at least 100 guardsmen would be called.

Augmenting the troops were 50 state police under Sergeant Clyde Jones, already on duty.

A siren by the national guard army gave the signal for troops to assemble.

To the state police has been designated the task of counting the estimated 30,000 ballots to be cast in Harlan county today.

A squad of state police was ordered to the county jail, indicating that arrests were expected.

The resolution, passed at a diet

Britain has been affording every assistance to China and at times

hindered Japanese military forces.

RECALLS STATEMENT

"He said in the presence of all of us that he had started from home in the morning with $35, that he had been drinking all day and that he had gambled most of the $35 at a Los Angeles horse race betting agency," Chief Lovell said.

A statement issued today by Capt. H. C. Meehan of the California Highway patrol, said:

"Reports published yesterday to the effect that certain highway patrolmen of this county were accused of having taken $300 from a man arrested on a charge of drunk driving, are without foundation."

Webb was not in his office today at press time and could not be reached for a statement.

A statement issued today by Capt. H. C. Meehan of the California Highway patrol, said:

"Reports published yesterday to the effect that certain highway patrolmen of this county were accused of having taken $300 from a man arrested on a charge of drunk driving, are without foundation."

The facts are that no such arrest was made by the highway patrol. The reports evidently arose as the result of an arrest made by members of the San Clemente police force.

"On Saturday evening, according to a statement made by San Clemente police, W. A. Curtiss of Hollywood, was picked up on a drunk driving charge. He seems to have charged, after his release on bail, that the arresting officers took the money away from him. I greatly regret that the reports published were not properly verified since it would have been found that the highway patrol was in no way involved in the matter. I have in my possession, a statement of the facts as given by the chief of police of San Clemente."

The published reports were quotations from the office of E. Raymond Cato, head of the California highway patrol, who said an investigation was under way, as sent out by the United Press.

Curtiss, 55 years old, said he had lived in California 50 years and never had a court action against him previously. He said he would wire District Atty. William Menton, asking "any action he may see fit." Menton was out of the city today.

Curtiss said that, at time of arrest, he was enroute to Jucumba Hot Springs, San Diego county, to visit his family and had $308 with him. He said that he had $8 left when he was released on bail. He said he would send a wire to the governor, too.

"His story is a complete fabrication," Chief Lovell reiterated.

REVOLT REPORTED

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay, Nov. 2.—(UPI)—Unconfirmed reports were received today that the garrison at Asuncion, Paraguay, had revolted. The Paraguayan government issued a communiqué saying it was in control of the situation.

Fullerton Post 142, American Legion, sponsoring this year's celebration for all of Orange county, is receiving additional parade entries daily at Armistice Day headquarters at the Fullerton chamber of commerce.

PLATOON OF OFFICERS

All parade entries should be listed with Cooke at headquarters not later than Monday noon, Nov. 8, it was advised today. However, entries still will be accepted after that date if it is not possible to report by that time, Cooke said.

Enthusiastic support was given the proposal in debate upon the question before the resolution came to a vote, and sentiment of labor circles was shown to be strongly behind the civil service move, as members of the executive board, who had first approved the resolution, discussed it before the entire body.

It was recommended as a move to separate the city's two emergency services from the political spoils system, and install a systematic plan of administration designed to promote efficiency. J. F. Lincoln, chairman of the executive board, R. C. Ewing, Ben Milligan, Harold Bisner, C. S. Morton, Steve Davidson and L. G. Jupp were among those who spoke on the question.

The civil service proposal will come to a vote at a special city election set for November 16.

"NO MATTER HOW FUTILE, I'LL CONFER" -- ON DELHI STREETS

Matt Lujan, unofficial mayor of Delhi, at last night's city council meeting, wanted the streets of his community improved to the point of "comfort," but he played three of a kind and Councilman Ernest Layton had a full house—and won.

Those who know cards, know Councilman Layton won—won the "battle" over improvement of Delhi streets. Lujan has been asking that the Delhi streets be put into shape for travel for several years.

"Yep, it's Deferred," Layton pointed out.

"What is being done to improve the Delhi streets?" Lujan asked.

"The matter has been deferred," said Layton. "Do you know what 'deferred' means?"

"Why, I think I do," said Lujan. "I suggest that Mr. Lujan study the situation out there and make recommendation," said Layton.

"I don't think Mr. Lujan should be called upon to do this," said Layton.

Well, I'm willing to cooperate in all the ways I can," Lujan said. "All right," said Layton.

By vote of three to two, city council last night adopted, at first reading, an ordinance prohibiting the free distribution of handbills, circulars, newspapers, dudgers, pamphlets, etc., in the city.

"I don't believe this ordinance will be a cure for present problems," Layton pointed out.

New Ferry Boat Service Proposed For Harbor

PROPOSAL IS SUBMITTED TO CITY COUNCIL

NEWPORT BEACH, Nov. 2.—Plans for a proposed ferry boat service for the entire Newport harbor district, connecting Corona Del Mar, Balboa Island, Lido Isle and the Bay Shore district with Newport and Balboa, were submitted to the city council last night by J. A. Beck, operator of the present Balboa-Balboa Island ferry line.

Seeks Franchise
Beek seeks a city franchise for the project. The council took the application under advisement.

A fleet of five boats operating on a 15 minute schedule was suggested by Beek. Four boats would be in operation and a fifth would be ready for emergencies. Two new piers would have to be built, one at Corona Del Mar and another near the end of the peninsula. Other sections of the harbor already have boat landings that could be utilized for the service during the four summer months. Beek proposed a minimum fare of five cents for short trips with longer ones priced accordingly.

Ferry boats of about 20 persons capacity, designed as to create a flat wake so as not to disturb anchored yachts or make large breakers along the shore, would be built.

Dredge Bids Opened

Bids for machinery on the new dredge the city is building to remove sand banks and mud flats were received and submitted to City Engineer R. L. Patterson for report at the next meeting, scheduled for 11 a. m. Thursday.

Advertisement for the lots has been made covering the sale to the city by the county and the state. After three weeks running the deeds will be issued to the city. About 90 other lots scattered over the city, sold for taxes, were listed in an agreement and an offer made to the county supervisors.

LUTHERANS TO ESTABLISH HOME FOR AGED IN ANAHEIM

ANAHEIM, Nov. 2.—A home for aged members of the Lutheran church will be established in Anaheim, according to announcement by the Rev. H. G. Schmelzer, pastor of Zion Lutheran church, one of the seven members of the California Home association.

Five acres on the northeast corner of Walnut and Ball roads, known as the Royer estate, have been purchased on the strength of a gift left the church many years ago by the late Mrs. Marie Thomas.

An architect is being engaged this week to draw up plans for the remodeling of the 11-room home owned and lived in originally by J. O. Royer. The house has for half a century been of historical interest to Anaheim.

Probably $2000 will be invested in reconstructing the house and landscaping the grounds. Most of the land is planted to orange trees. When the architect's plans have been submitted the directors of the California Home association, a contract will be let for the work. Rev. Schmelzer reports a waiting list of 50 who wish to get into the home but says expansion of the house cannot be made rapidly enough to care for that many.

There will be a matron and eventually a nurse. Only members of the church will be admitted to the home and assignments of property are available to it.

ANNUAL CAMPAIGN FOR $5000 OPENED BY 'Y'

ORANGE, Nov. 2.—More than 250 persons were present last night at an annual Y.M.C.A. meeting and dinner when a campaign for funds of $5,000 was opened and the speaker of the evening was Judge William H. McKay, municipal judge of Los Angeles, who was introduced by Judge H. G. Ames of Santa Ana.

Judge McKay, speaking on crime conditions in the United States, declared that there is less delinquency among the boys of Orange county than in any of the other counties of the state. It was brought out that there are 791 boys in Orange between the ages of nine and 18 years. Of this number, 581 are enrolled in church groups, 92 in other group work and but eight were placed on probation as delinquents last year.

Cites Crime Cost

The speaker said that last year 14 billion dollars was the price paid for crime in the United States without much concern about it, while many objected to the 11 billions spent by the government in relief projects. Murderers loose in the nation number 185,000. Judge McKay said, the average prison term for murder being slightly over nine years. He called attention to the fact the crime in Canada, Mexico and in European countries is greatly below that in the United States.

A report of the year's work was presented by Sheldon Swenson, Y. M. C. A. secretary, who paid a high tribute to J. B. Wilbur, serving here as "Y" secretary for the past eight years, and to R. W. Hull, who has served as president of the Y board for the past three years.

200 Boys March

An impressive and concrete example of the activities of the "Y" was introduced with an exhibition of a model airplane in flight around the clubroom given by Elton Barnett, and an exhibition of archery by Carroll Merrick who made 11 bull's eyes.

As a climax to the exhibition the rooms were darkened and about 200 boys in white shirts and bright colored caps marched in, following a leader carrying a gleaming white taper, the steady tramp, tramp of young feet and the fine appearing young boys making an impressive sight.

Musical selections were given on the harp by Ruth Helen Oakes. W. W. Perry, head of the finance campaign spoke briefly and Ralph W. Hull acted as toastmaster giving the closing talk.

PITT, IRISH IN SATURDAY'S NO. 1 GAME

Gehringer Gets Player Award

CON CAGEMEN MAKE BOW AT
'Y' THURSDAY

BY DUNCAN CLARK

Basketball at Santa Ana junior college may be in for a change for the better this winter and Coach Blanchard Beatty hopes to find out just how much better his Don Cagmen are going to be when they mix it with the powerful Woolen Mills five on the Y.M.C.A. floor Thursday night.

This will be the first official game of the 1937-38 season for the Dons.

Santa Ana's starting five will include three new faces "C" Leivermann, six-foot-six center from Saska, Minn.; Charles Hall, South Dakota forward, and Delbert Holter, Nark Kan. guard. Charles "Chuck" Barrett, letterman forward, and Kenneth Marshall, letterman guard, will be the other two starters.

Captain Don Randall, forward; Robert Scott, forward; Bob Fowler, Ernest Barrett, Fred Schwelger, Bob Clark and Johnny Sowers are others sure to see action against an attractive schedule for the Dons.

Jan. 16—A double header with LaVerne College varsity at LaVerne.

Dec. 7—Bank of America (L.A.) here.

Dec. 10—Pacific Coast Club (L.A.) here.

Dec. 17-18—Dons at Chaffey tournament for Southern California junior colleges. (Fifteen teams have entered the tournament.)

Dec. 31—Sacramento Jaysee here.

The world's champion New York Globe Trotters, a Negro team, are scheduled to appear here sometime in December or early January, according to Coach Beatty. Many other early season games will be scheduled with Y.M.C.A. league teams during the next few weeks.

A. A. U. TO ACT ON
136 NEW RECORDS

NEW YORK—The Amateur Athletic union will act upon 136 records set during 1936 by American athletes when it meets later this month in annual convention at Boston.

Ralph Flanagan of the Miami Biltmore Swimming club, Florida, free-style swimmer, created 15 marks during the year to lead all American athletes.

Although the total is 52 less than a year ago the list is of a higher quality, including many standout events such as 200 and 800 meter runs, two mile runs, pole vault and high jump.

Adolph Kiefer of the Lake Shore Athletic club Chicago Olympic backstroke champion, and Johnny Higgins of Providence, backstroke swimmer, were next in line behind Flanagan with five records to their credit.

Katherine Rawls, all-around star of Miami, leads the women's division with five new swimming records.

The list does not embrace record performances of American Athletes in Europe this summer. It is confined to athletes who have broken records in this country this year.

Possibly the best marks up for approval are those of 1:49.6 for the 800 meters and 880 yards credited to Elroy Robinson of the Olympic club, San Francisco.

Two athletes are credited with identical records—Earle Meadows and Bill Setton of Southern California. They both vaulted 14 feet, 11 inches, last May in Los Angeles.

BOO!

COLEMAN AND PARELLI WIN
MAT MATCHES

BY PAUL VISSMAN

Bob (Our Hero) Coleman led the blundering herd at the Orange County Athletic Club last night when he won the main event on the (w)restling card from Young Stecher.

Stecher took the first fall in 18:42 minutes with an airplane spin—or did Stecher just pick Coleman up and drop him because he was so tired? Coleman took the second fall, or flop, in 9:22 minutes with an overhead body slam. The third fall went to Coleman in 11:28. Coleman fell asleep, rolled over on Stecher and stayed there until Referee Joe Varga awakened him to go home.

Maybe it was the chilly night and then again it may have been that the boys were out too late Hallowe'en night stealing gates but neither Coleman or Stecher, usually fast workers, moved around fast enough to keep warm. In fact they could hardly keep the crowd awake.

Siamese-Twin Act

All the action there was came before the first fall. Coleman mussed Stecher's hair and Stecher mussed Coleman's locks, then they went into a Siamese-Twin act with a double headlock and from then they progressed into a ballet dance.

Coming out for the second fall, the boys sang that beautiful duet "You Tell Me Your Dream and I'll Tell You Mine," until Varga interrupted with the warning "Get a little more action in this thing."

Always willing to oblige, Stecher bumped Coleman with a flying tackle, carried up with his right knee under his chin and took a little rest before coming back to take the fall. The third fall taken just to prove something or other was welcomed.

Joe Parelli slugged and wrestled his way to straight falls over Lee Barry taking the first fall in 21:02 minutes with an overhead flop after tangling with Referee Varga several times because of his unethical methods of wrestling. In one of the brawls with Varga, Parelli tripped him and was promptly kicked in the lunchbox by the referee.

Butts Barry Against Post

Parelli took the second fall in 6:56 with a body-press after butting Barry's head against the ring posts and stopping a couple of beautiful drop kicks launched by Barry.

"Iron Mike" Works livened things up a little in his match with Mitsui Hamanki when he paid a personal visit to three fervent youths in the ringside section and participated a near riot that was stopped when the referee and Hamanki pulled him back in the ring. Hamanki won in 21:57 with a Japanese hip-lock.

Frank Hale won the preliminary from Bob Stone in 14:29 with a series of flying tackles.

The high school's coaching staff is trying to build a fire under its ailing football team.

The Saints play Pomona Friday in a game that definitely determines whether they'll figure further in the Citrus Belt league's championship race. You would think that would be enough in itself to hop up the boys, but history is again them.

It is still hard for me to believe the '37 Dons are stronger than Lennahan - Gresham - Titenson-Benson-Rash et al, and yet it might be true.

In 7 games to date, the Dons have rolled up 135 points to their opponents' 20. They need 50 points to eclipse last season's scoring record.

Thirteen points a game against Riverside, Citrus, Fullerton and a fourth unnamed opponent will turn the trick.

Except at Redlands, the Santa Anas have been strictly a second-hand club. After fiddling around throughout the first half, they come back to outplay all comers in the last half. But, as against Riverside last week—this often is precarious.

Coch Bill Foote wonders if it would be wise to have the Saints scrimmage for a quarter or so "behind the barn" before game-time. This, he reckons, might remove some of the tremble from the lads' knees at kick-off time.

Both Foote and his side-decamp Joe Koehler, who scouted Pomona, believe Santa Ana has an even chance at Pomona. They laugh off undefeated Pomona's 26-13 victory over San Diego (in which Pomona made all its points before San Diego had any) which habitually kicks Santa Ana all over the park when both were in the Coast league. Foote claims San Diego has its weakest team in years, says he'd like to have a crack at the Hillers himself.

Coch Bill Foote believes the Pomona contest will be decided in the line. He says the Saints will be ready.

"Guys like Bob Maddock and Bob Webb and Warhurst have been sitting back on their heels but they'll be charging Friday," says Foote.

Both Foote and his side-decamp Joe Koehler, who scouted Pomona, believe Santa Ana has an even chance at Pomona. They laugh off undefeated Pomona's 26-13 victory over San Diego (in which Pomona made all its points before San Diego had any) which habitually kicks Santa Ana all over the park when both were in the Coast league. Foote claims San Diego has its weakest team in years, says he'd like to have a crack at the Hillers himself.

Coch Bill Foote believes the Pomona contest will be decided in the line. He says the Saints will be ready.

"Guys like Bob Maddock and Bob Webb and Warhurst have been sitting back on their heels but they'll be charging Friday," says Foote.

Movies 'Show Up' Modern Gridders

BY HENRY MCLOMERE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

HORSEFOOT, Neb. — While tied up in a traffic jam here today (the result of the crowd leaving the Horsefoot premiere of The Birth of a Nation) I fell to thinking on how the perfection of the camera has multiplied the work of college football players.

In my football playing days (Upper Georgia School of Optometry) the camera was a very unsure item. The shutters of the cameras of those days worked only slightly faster than a Venetian blind, and unless the subject struck a cigar-store Indian pose the picture always came out blurred.

Even if the coach of the Optometry Owls, which was my team, had wanted to take an action picture of the squad he couldn't have. Not even if he had thrown ten square feet of black muslin over his head, and the squad had stopped dead still in the middle of a play and looked intently at the canary.

But that was long ago. The once proud buildings of Upper Georgia Optometry now house a reform school, and the camera has been so perfected that entire football games are recorded from kickoff to goal post uprooting. The coaches have these pictures made and then, on Monday, unroll them with the squad in attendance.

I have sat in on several of these Monday matinee showings, and the football films are a revelation. They constitute the perfect way to watch a game. The camera overlooks nothing. Every tackle, every block—in fact, every motion of every player is there in black and white. If there is some particular play a coach wants to see he has the operator run and re-run that section of the film.

It is quite obvious that these films are tough on the players. The coaches have them taken chiefly to pick on the flaws in their teams, and just as every good play is recorded, so is every error. This simply means that a modern football player, unless he has a tough hide and is immune to criticism, cannot afford to let down for a second. He must move at top speed for 60 minutes unless he wants to sit in the darkened

ADVENT CHRISTIAN FIVE SEIZES LEAD

Advent Christian's basketball team was out in front by a full game in the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. league today by virtue of its 35-21 win over the Excelsior Creamery company's casaba-tossers last night.

In a mild upset, the Patterson Dairy came back in the second half to nip the M. E. South in the second game, 27-25, in the final seconds of play. Kaun and Buck, center and forward for Patterson's, lead the attack with 8 points apiece. Cook with 18 points was high for M. E. South.

Tomorrow night's triple-header features two of the top teams in the league, Southern Counties Gas company clashes with Al Jasper's Lock and Key Shop. Treesweet Products, surprise team of the league, faces the Barr Lumber company. The Church of the Brethren meets Penhall Brothers in the final game at 9 o'clock.

BOTTARI LOST TO CALIFORNIA CAUSE, REPORT

SEATTLE—Rumors that Vic Bottari, University of California's great running back, suffered a severe charley horse in last week's game, cheered 33 University of Washington football players as they prepared to entrain for the South today.

The Huskies, last year's Pacific Coast conference champions, meet the undefeated Bears in Berkeley stadium Saturday.

Bottari is probably the greatest cog in the powerful California steamroller and his loss would impair seriously the effectiveness of Coach "Stub" Allison's driving offense.

Squad members, trainers, coaches and managers were to leave at 4:20 P. M. for Pleasanton, south of Oakland.

There, Coach Jimmy Phelan will attempt to condition his team mentally, physically and spiritually for the battle ahead. The squad will leave Pleasanton for Berkeley Friday.

Visibly sparked by the crushing 21-7 defeat handed Idaho, the Huskies barged through a stiff work-out before train-time, displaying an abundance of fire and snap.

Dummy scrummage found Miller, Waskowitz, Cruger and Newton holding down their old first string positions. Jimmy Johnston, the Huskies' nimblest speedster, was running on the second squad.

The official title is "Good News of 1938" and the hour will be aired from the stage of the El Capitan theater on Hollywood boulevard.

The only bug in the ointment, as I see it, is too much big-name talent.

If such a thing can be imagined.

The time has passed when all movie star Susie Glavin had to do to make a radio hit was to say, "Hello everybody, having wonderful time. Wish you were here."

Now Susie has to do something.

Otherwise it's back to the cans of celluloid.

But that's Bill Bacher's headache.

As producer of the show he'll have to weld the flock of M-G-M personalities into an hour with a meaning.

And if anyone can do it, he should be able to. That's why they're paying him $2000 a broadcast, his repeated paycheck.

If you're an out-of-towner, would like to see the show and planning to visit Los Angeles in the near future, drop a line to the sponsor at 775 Terminal street, Los Angeles.

The number of tickets and the week desired. And give them plenty of notice. Something like 1800 weekly tickets will be available to the public after the premiere performance.

PROGRAM PARADE

The Menjous, Adolphe and wife, Verree Teasdale, are the guests of Al Jolson. (KXN, 8:30)

Should a wife adapt herself to her husband's business no matter what it is? That's the question to be argued on Husbands & Wives (RECA, 5)

The Old Ranger will recall a yarn about a ghost that led to the discovery of gold during the broadcast of Death Valley Days (KPL, 9)

DITS & DATA

Fred Allen's first show will be the 17th of this month. And, as told exclusively in this column, he'll broadcast from Hollywood. At present it looks as if the ex-juggler will do the first five editions from here.

Phil Baker is still scratching through a long file of comedies to find someone to fill the gap left by Patsy Kelly's decision to stick to the films.

Straight sight: Bing Crosby at the Music Hall rehearsal crooning love songs with a pipe stuck in the corner of his mouth.

Patsy met his wife when she attended one of his broadcasts. Since they were married she hasn't witnessed a single one.

P. S.—She listens to them at home.

B. A. Rolfe is the authority for the statement that almost all of Hawaii's native music stems from New England hymns which were taught to the islanders years ago by the first missionaries from this country.

PICNIC HELD BY COSTA MESA CLUB

SAN FRANCISCO—Frank (Lefty) O'Doul, former major league baseball star, signed last night to manage the San Francisco Seals of the Pacific Coast league in 1933

The "From now on" was put in the contract because both the Seals and O'Doul "wanted to be fairly certain about the future," the Seal management said.

The contract carried a clause permitting O'Doul to accept a major league management if one should be offered him.

O'Doul was given a "considerable" boost in salary, the management said.

M'KINLEY P.-T. A. GROUP TO CONVENE

The executive board of the McKinley school P.-T. A. will meet at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the home of Mrs. J. E. Gajeski, 1015 West Sixth street in Santa Ana.

Proving a huge success, the committee that staged the McKinley school Halloween party and carnival last Friday, today received congratulations of parents and children who were in attendance at the affair.

FIRM LEASES PACKING HOUSE

Virginia Groves, Inc., with a main office at Riverside, has leased the large packing house in Fullerton formerly occupied by S. E. Fusco, Inc., and will be active in the shipping of valencias next season in Orange and Los Angeles counties, it was announced today. The packing house is located at Pomona and Walnut avenues.

This independent firm has handled a total of 2837 cars of oranges in the three years of operation, packing and marketing its own output largely to chain store organizations.

Will Tillotson, president, was formerly general citrus manager for the American Fruit Growers of California and pioneered the electric branding of oranges since adopted by the industry.

Virginia Groves, Inc., uses an optional contract by which the grower may accept the prevailing cash price when fruit is delivered to the house, or market in short-term pools.

BOULEVARD ZONING PROPOSAL DELAYED

Almost rejected by city council upon recommendation of the city planning commission, proposal to zone the north side of Santa Ana boulevard between Main and Chapman for business was postponed last night by city council.

Fourteen names were on the petition, asking the change. The change in zone will be considered when the complete re-zoning of the district is considered, officials said.

COUNCIL NOTES

City council adjourned last night for one week instead of the customary two weeks and will be ready for action again at 7:30 p.m. November 8.

Request of Emmet C. Rogers for permission to build a two-family dwelling at 1302 North Bristol, was approved last night by city council. City planners' recommendation was accepted by council.

Mixup in requests last night at city council meeting resulted in the delay of three applications for permission to build new multiple homes for two weeks. James G. Smith wants: To build a four-unit apartment building on the northeast corner of Eighth and Garney and a four-unit apartment on the northwest corner. And William Ulm, surprisingly, wants to build a two-family residence on approximately the same property! All of the problems were referred to the city planners for recommendation.

Franchise tax for the period from October 12, 1936, to October 12, 1937, $5,221.58, was received by city council last night from the Southern California Telephone company. The amount represented two per cent of gross receipts for the year $261,076.40.

ORCHESTRA AND CHORUS TO JOIN IN S. A. EVENT

Attention today was called to the concert to be presented by the federal music project symphony orchestra at 8:15 p.m. Thursday at the Santa Ana high school auditorium.

On this occasion which, according to Leon Eckles, project supervisor, "inaugurates an exceptional concert series for the fall and winter, the project chorus will unite with the symphonic unit to present an extraordinarily fine program.

Scores of Concerts
"Both the chorus and orchestra have undergone rigorous training in preparation for the performance," Eckles stated, "and every indication is that the concert will prove a memorable one in the music annals of Santa Ana."

The combined units, he pointed out, have made well over a hundred public appearances throughout the county. "However," he said, "there may still be people in Santa Ana who are unfamiliar with the high standard of musicianship attained by the Federal Music Project. The groups comprising the project are composed of the best talent available in Orange County and are well routined organizations presenting finished performances of a group of three numbers by support of the public."

Program Is Varied
A program sufficiently varied to appeal to all tastes in music has been arranged, Eckles announced, "with the chorus of 25 performing a group of three numbers accompanied by the 40-piece orchestra. The concert will begin promptly at 8:15 p.m. and will be presented at nominal admission prices."

The full program follows:
I. Symphony in E. Minor (New World)
Adagio-Allegro molto Largo
Scherzo-Molto Vivace
Final allegro Confucio
II. Omnipotence
Springtime
Hail, Bright Abode
(Chorus and Orchestra)
III. (A) Adante Cantabile
(Opus)
(B) A Musical Snuffbox
(C) Juba Dance
IV. Phedre Overture.

S. A. MAY GET HIGH-POWER RADIO STATION

NEW SYSTEM OUTLINED BY FEDERAL BODY

Santa Ana will have a chance to become the location of one of the high-power police radio stations which the Federal Communications commission hopes to set up within the next year or so as a part of a nationwide system of police radio communication, it was learned today in a special dispatch from Washington, D. C.

Santa Ana gets consideration because it is the site of a 400 watt police radio station now maintained by Orange county.

Program Outlined

The nationwide police communications system will be based on the principle of a limited number of high-power stations with overlapping service areas, and a large number of smaller, strictly local police stations.

Reference to the long-range plan for a nationwide police radio network was made by the commission in connection with its announcement earlier this month, of reallocation of radio facilities. It was pointed out that even with the closest cooperation between police departments, the method now widely used of relaying police messages from small station to small station is neither highly efficient nor susceptible of much development.

Network Planned

The solution of the problem, it was pointed out at the commission offices, is a network of larger police radio stations, centrally located to the areas they serve, which can blanket their respective areas, intercommunicate, and provide instant dissemination of police information to all the smaller, local police radio units in their localities.

While initiative in the case of each high-powered radio station in the proposed network must be local, the commission will keep its broad plan in mind in issuance of future licenses for police radio stations, it was indicated.

NATIVE SANTA ANA NAMED TO IMPORTANT M. W. D. ACTIVITIES

H. G. Matthews, native son of Santa Ana and former Orange County Highway engineer, now is assistant engineer of the distribution division of the Metropolitan Water District, according to the Aqueduct News, published by the district. In the October publication Matthews is listed in the department "Who's Who on the Aqueduct."

Matthews was resident engineer at Cornell University where he studied civil engineering from 1913 to 1917 when he graduated. Upon graduation he entered the army in 1917 as a second Lieutenant in the Field Artillery and served in the A.E.F.

At the close of the war he was with the Pennsylvania railroad and later handled steel construction work for several large eastern construction companies before returning to his home in Santa Ana.

Post On Aqueduct
In 1925 Matthews gave up his private practice to accept a post at Cajalco dike and dam. He has project and has been with the district since that time. He was employed on water supply investigations and resources and preliminary location surveys. Later he was employed on construction work in Division 4 before becoming assistant engineer on construction of studied civil engineering from 1913 been in the Los Angeles office of the distribution division since last March 1.

Matthews was born in Santa Ana April 9, 1890 and, after graduating from the local schools en-

STREET NAMES OF SANTA ANA HONOR PIONEER RESIDENTS FLOWERS, TREES REMEMBERED

BY MRS. J. E. PLEASANTS

Santa Ana, like the wise little city that she is, has preserved considerable history in the naming of her streets, though it is a pity that some of the new ones are repetitions of those of other places. Wilshire presumably was named after Wilshire in Los Angeles. There it has a reason, old Gay Wilshire, who put on the subdivision.

Then there's Hobart in both of the San Joaquin ranch. After retiring from this position he became a large property owner in Santa Ana. Mrs. French was one of the ladies who helped to organize the Santa Ana library, and gave of her time as librarian to help the infant library to grow.

Bush street was named for John Bush, pioneer resident in that part of the town. Why they called it Cypress after the jog to the south is a mystery, for it is lined with camphor trees. Where are the poor cypress trees? But the street is so beautiful, so why bring that up? The camphor can put on many colors when she is putting on her spring make up that she needs no flowers to proclaim her beauty.

Birch is named for Albert William Birch, pioneer of 1873, who owned extensive tracts now within the city limits. He was the grandfather of Miss Lula Minter and Minter street was named for her father, the late George Minter.

Organized School

Dresser was named for William Dresser, pioneer of 1850. Mr. Dresser is said to have organized the first Sunday school in the state, outside of the large towns. This was in the Slauson valley.

McFadden street was named for James McFadden, prominent pioneer lumber dealer, who with his brother, Robert, built the Newport railroad. The old McFadden home on McFadden and Main was a prominent landmark for many years. The old palm trees still mark the site. The late Dr. C. D. Ball, many years president of the Historical society, with others interested in the preserving of historical landmarks, tried in vain to get the old house and its attractive grounds saved to the city as an historical monument, but the authorities were not interested.

Cubbon street, honoring pioneer John Cubbon, was saved from having its name changed by the efforts of the Historical society.

Stafford street bears the name of the early pioneer, N. O. Stafford, who came to Santa Ana in 1868, bringing his family a little later. He was the first husband of Mrs. R. J. Blee and father of E. P. Stafford and Mrs. J. W. Flagg.

Fruit street was named for James Fruit, who owned a large acreage in that section of the city in Santa Ana's early days.

Dr. Lacy Honored

Lacy street honors Dr. J. M. Lacy, one of Santa Ana's much-loved pioneer physicians, a real southern gentleman of the old school.

Baker and Towner were named for two of the city's respected pioneer judges.

Halliday bears the name of Dan-

WILDE NAMED AREA CASHIER IN NORTH AREA

Promotion of S. H. Wilde, agent cashier and business manager for the Federal Music Project in Orange county since its inception two years ago, was announced today by Leon L. Eckles, director of the project.

Wilde has been named agent cashier for the entire northern district of the Federal Music Project and will have his headquarters in San Francisco. Eckles said the promotion for the local man came as a part of the reorganization of the federal project into two districts for the entire state.

Central Quarters

In the past, the project has been functioning through districts scattered over the state. Each district had its own agent cashier. For greater efficiency all districts will be consolidated into two, one for the northern part of the state and the other for the south, with headquarters in Los Angeles.

Wilde now will handle and disburse all box office receipts for the various music project concerts in the northern half of California.

Parton and Garnsey, two of our beautiful residence streets, honor the pioneers. John Parton and James Garnsey, some of whose descendants are now residents of the city.

Van Ness was formerly Lowe street, named for John Lowe, father of Hugh Lowe, prominent merchant. When information was sought as to why the name was changed, it developed that there was a jog to be straightened and an extension to be cut through, and there was at that time a counter.

Department Chairman Attends Meeting Of Auxiliary Juniors

Mrs. Florence Smith of Anaheim, department chairman of Legion Auxiliary Juniors, was speaker Monday afternoon at a meeting of Santa Ana Juniors in Veterans hall. Miss Mabel Louise Castex received the business session.

Wearing their orange and blue costumes, 20 members of the local group will march in the Armistice Day parade in Fullerton, it was announced. Plans were made to meet Thursday afternoon in the office of the Tuberculosis association to assist in folding Christmas seals. Members discussed a proposed plan to do something special for children at Orange county hospital at Thanksgiving time.

Advisers, Mrs. Harold Brown and Mrs. Robert Sandon had planned the refreshment interval. Among them were the Misses Mary Alice Eklund, Patricia Swarthout, Leonie Lindgaard, Mabel Louise Castex, Betty Howe, Phillips Sandon and Maryann Sandon. Betty Howe was welcomed as a new member.

Merry Party

Last week brought a Hallowe'en party at which Mrs. Harold Brown entertained the Juniors in her home, 2038 North Ross street. Miss Maggie Bowman, a guest, won a prize for the best costume, while Nancy Neer was rewarded for wearing the funniest outfit.

The girls enjoyed dancing on the cement in the yard. Large candy bars were prizes awarded winners in the various games of the evening. Chocolate cake and orange ice cream were served by Mrs. Brown, assisted by Mrs. J. B. Cas- teix.

Dance Adds Gayety To Season's Affairs

Prominent among gay observances of the current carnival season was the costume party with program and dancing, which members of the Carpenters' auxiliary staged Saturday night in the Labor temple as a compliment to the Carpenters' Union.

Everyone agreed with enthusiasm that it was a wonderful success in the gayety and hospitality, with the correct setting for cleverly costumed guests afforded by the vivid decorations. Mrs. Agnes Schrotz and her committee had festooned the hall with bright streamers, autumn leaves, colored lights and jack-o'-lanterns.

Arlo Hayward acted as master of ceremonies throughout the evening, introducing the program presented by talented children from the Meglio School of Dancing. The children sang and danced special numbers in very pleasing fashion, to piano accompaniment of Mrs. Steele.

Following the program was the grand march in which the clever costumes were seen at their best advantage. Mrs. Jacob Bergseth and Messrs. Norris Stone and Emmett Lambert acted as judges. Prizes for the best costumes went to Mrs. Fern Benner as a Negro minstrel in pale blue satin suit with silk hat, and to John Bockwater as a dashing Spanish cavalier. Mrs. Malvina Titchener as a very convincing young "Tom Sawyer" ready for fishing with pole and rusty bait and Jerome Schrotz as a tramp, received the prizes for most amusing costumes, while among the children, honors fell to a sister and brother, Eunice Schrotz as a gypsy and Bruce Schrotz as a pirate.

All these amazingly appered guests then joined in dancing for the remainder of the evening, to excellent music provided by Mrs. Erick, piano; Bob Richardson, saxophone, and Dean Laub, violin. An enjoyable interlude was the serving of pumpkin pie topped with whipped cream, with coffee brewed by the men of the Union. The table was quite as decorative as other features of the evening, with its appropriate cloth and napkins, and its golden pumpkin centerpiece.

SPAGHETTI SUPPER

Spaghetti supper served at the close of card play added to the enjoyment of a Saturday evening party at which Mr. and Mrs. Jack Casey were hosts in their home, 1424 South Ross street.

Popcorn and apples were served while the group played cards. Winners were Mrs. Arthur Casey and J. D. Parsons, who received prizes. For the midnight supper, guests were seated at a large table brightened with chrysanthemums and tapers. Mrs. Russell Goetting assisted the hostess in serving.

FOR YOUNG COUPLES

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Knox received a group of young couples Saturday evening in their home, 301 South Ross street, where balloons and streamers formed a festive background for events of the evening. Midnight supper was served at a table centered with a lighted pumpkin.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Knox were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hales, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cartwright, the Misses Ruth Baker, Erdine Farmer, Dorothy Goway, Gwendolyn Griffin and Messrs. Otto Grigg, Walt Hendrie, Kenneth Vandrun and Russell Abbey.

Co-hostesses Receive Assistance League Charm to P. E. O. Guest Event

Hawaiian Theme Lends Charm to P. E. O. Guest Event

Bright with autumn berries, clusters of late-blooming roses and a wealth of chrysanthemums, the M. Burr Wellington home on Lemon Heights was a picture of autumn loveliness yesterday when Mrs. Wellington and Mrs. Wilbur Barr received Assistance League members for their opening November meeting.

Little button chrysanthemums, primly dainty in form and soft pastel colors, formed the flower clusters at linen-draped tables where the salad luncheon was served in advance of business details and contract play.

Mrs. Lloyd Chenoweth, League president, told of the recent meeting of the board of directors, and the appointment of Mrs. Wilbur Barr to the post of recording secretary; Mrs. Wellington as membership chairman, and Mrs. Dixon Tubbs as ways and means chairman. She also recalled the success of the recent rummage sale, and suggested the League's vote of thanks in appreciation of the activities of two young matrons, Mrs. William Thornton White and Mrs. Marion Farwell, who had made the affair such a gratifying financial success.

Monetary results of this rummage sale were incorporated in Mrs. Howard Timmons' treasurer's report. Quite as valuable as indicating the League's consistent growth and development, were the secretary's reports given by Mrs. R. C. Holles, which embodied both regular and board meetings.

After the succeeding interval of bridge play, the group disbanded to meet again in two weeks with Mrs. Dixon Tubbs and Mrs. John McKitterick in the Tubbs home, 246 North Tustin avenue.

First Travel Section Has Luncheon, Program

Ebell First Travel section members were assembled for one of their enjoyable luncheons and programs yesterday afternoon when Mrs. William Smart was hostess at Daningers. Red roses centered the table at which guests were seated for luncheon.

The remainder of the afternoon was spent in Mrs. Smart's home, 720 North Main street. Mrs. H. B. Hell, who was received as a new member, gave an interesting talk on her recent travels through China and down to Australia.

Present in addition to Mrs. Smart and Mrs. Hell were Mesdames C. Dawes, L. L. Carden, M. F. Heathman, George Smith and E. B. Smith.

VARIED PARTY PROGRAM

No more delightful a setting for Hallowe'en gayeties could be desired than that afforded at the ranch home of the Russell Caldwells on East First street, Tustin, where all Orange county employees of the Barr Lumber company gathered Saturday night for appropriate revelries.

The brick court in the rear garden was rendezvous in the early evening, and the fire blazing on the wide hearth added its charm to the amusing games which climaxed with a scavenger hunt. The remainder of the evening was spent up in the attic which was made a realistic witches' abode for the program of games, music and dancing and the serving of appropriate refreshments.

Sixty or more guests were entertained, and the majority of them were in carnival costume, showing much ingenuity in their clever disguises.

QUIET CHURCH RITES

At quiet rites conducted Thursday afternoon, October 28, in Unitarian church, the pastor, the Rev. Julie N. Budlong, united in marriage, Miss Belle F. McHenry of Los Angeles, and Roy M. Morris, also of that city where he is with the rubber industry. There were no attendants, and the new Mr. and Mrs. Morris left immediately for a short honeymoon before returning to Los Angeles to make their home.

On the previous day, Wednesday, October 27, the Rev. Miss Budlong officiated at another wedding of equal simplicity when Miss Louise Rife of Covina became the bride of William E. Gates, a rancher of that section. Mr. and Mrs. William Clyde Webber, Garden Grove and Mrs. Martha Vandewalker, 500.

Mrs. Scott served two-course refreshments including pumpkin pie and whipped cream. Assisting her was Mrs. Kate Perkins. Colorful table appointments were in keeping with a festive cloth dotted with Hallowe'en symbols. Flowers and other decorations were in the vivid orange and yellow of the season.

Officiating as judges during the costume contest were Della Warner, Minnie Squier, Elizabeth Ray and Laura Johnson.

VARIED PARTY PROGRAM

Seeking the various articles required by their hostess in a scavenger hunt, was the merry manner in which guests of Miss Anita Morton started the evening when they were entertained Saturday night in the Morton home, 2015 Orange avenue.

Various Hallowe'en games followed with cootie introduced for the remainder of the evening. Miss Lois Grochow and Fred Lindeman won honors in the scavenger hunt, while the prize winner in cootie was Martin Marks.

Mrs. S. Carl Morton lent assistance to her daughter in decorating the home in gay colors, flowers and symbols for the party, and in serving cider, pumpkin pie with whipped cream, and nuts and candies at a gaily garlanded table.

Miss Anita's guests were the Misses Vivian Jordan, Eagle Rock; Lucile Jansen, Fullerton; Edith Alexander, Mildred Cordes, Anaheim; Toni Barrios, Helen Kendall, Santa Ana; Messrs. Don Henderson, Howard Brown, Long Beach; John Rayber, Keith Peck, Walter Babcock, Los Angeles; Gil Yerba and Ray Ellis, Santa Ana.

Hallowe'en Revelers Share Hospitality Of Finch Barn

Half a hundred Hallowe'en revelers joined in festivities at the Braden Finch barn on Lemon Heights Saturday night when all manner of appropriate games and contests were indulged in by costumed guests representing numerous interesting characters.

The man from the moon, or at least from another world, proved to be none other than Donald Button, who rang a little bell every time he was introduced. To him went first prize, among men at the party. Mrs. Horace Stevens, charmingly gowned as little Red Riding Hood, won first prize among feminine guests. Jimmie McLain's amusing outfit won honorable mention. Mrs. Finch added to the spirit of the occasion by wearing a scarecrow costume, while Mr. Finch was a mechanical man.

Wheelbarrow races and other games occupied the merry group for the greater part of the evening. A blazing outdoor fire added to the hospitable setting arranged for the occasion. While enjoying a midnight supper, guests found seats on bales of hay in the barn. Palm and bamboo branches, clusters of gourds and pumpkins and other symbols of Hallowe'en were in the background.

Old-time music played inspired old-fashioned dances which proved especially enjoyable.

The Chinese train cormorants dive for fish. A cord around the bird's neck prevents it from swallowing the catch.

Medical science is still strong for the liver diet, but they prescribe their liver "as rare as can be tolerated." That's a pretty tall order, but here's a recipe that gives the user reasonably rare liver in an agreeable way.

Liver and Rice Cakes

Cook 2-3 cup well washed rice until it will mash, then rinse it in hot water until the loose starch has been shaken away. Blend rice with a little butter, salt, pepper, garlic salt or grated onion and a few grains of celery seed.

Slice 2-3 pound beef, lamb or pork liver, plunges in boiling water for 5 minutes, then into cold water. Drain and run through grinder.

Mix with the rice and bind the mixture with a beaten egg.

"Binding" a mixture with an egg means working the egg through the mixture, so that when fried or baked, the cooking egg will hold the ingredients together.

Shape the liver-rice mixture into flat cakes, dip them in flour and fry to a golden brown in butter or bacon fat. Broken open, the cakes should show the liver faintly red, or "reasonably rare." The recipe serves four.

A good recipe and a stamped envelope entitle you to a copy of the big Calory List. Send for it today and check on the foods that may be running your weight up.

This cabbage salad tastes grand and looks swell, if you'll forgive the slang. With either of the liver dishes, meat loaf, hamburger cakes or fish, it is the salad your wife will enjoy and ask for again and again.

Jellied Cabbage Salad
2 cups shredded raw cabbage
1 cup finely diced pineapple
1-2 cup shredded raw carrot
1 box lime or lemon flavored gelatine dissolved in 1 cup boiling water

Add 1 cup pineapple juice and either lemon juice or vinegar to suit taste.

Slice 12 stuffed olives and add with a dash of salt to other vegetables.

Dissolve gelatine, add juices and chill until just at the setting point.

Nursery Students Give Hallowe'en Party

Peter Rabbit, a Chinese girl, clowns and an Indian girl were among the many characters represented at a holiday party last week at the Little Nursery School at Visel studios, 425 West First street. Miss Helen Mortensen, teacher, supervised arrangements for the affair.

The little boys and girls helped to dress a jolly-faced jack o' lantern with a tall black paper hat decorated with orange circles. This amusing figure, electrically lighted, gleamed a welcome to guests as they arrived, and later decorated the table from which refreshments were served.

Peggy Lou and Barbara Jean Moore, daughters of Dr. and Mrs. Newell Moore were welcomed to the affair. Both attended the school last year, and enjoyed a reunion with their playmates.

Toys which are part of the Nursery School equipment proved of special interest to the boys and girls who had never seen them before. Many games were played before the interval when sherbet and cookies were served. Hallowe'en hats and balloons were favors.

Our Children

BY ANGELO PATRI

DISCRETION

Discretion can rise to the heights of virtue when it is put to the service of children. No child ever grew up without making a mistake that frightened its parents and teachers. The more active the child the more certain he is to come to grief. The adolescent child whose growth makes him an easy victim to social proprieties is certain to need the sympathy and understanding of the fathers and mothers and teachers of the community. It is in this relation that discretion becomes the highest expression of intelligence.

When a child makes a mistake keep it to yourself. Say as little as possible to those who are concerned about it and nothing at all to those who are not concerned. There is no reason why Aunt Milly should be called up to listen to the latest offense Son or Daughter has committed. No reason at all why the family friend should be told.

Most people abide by the social code and the Ten Commandments, in healthy dread of public opinion. Their group respects the code and the Commandments, and they fear the loss of the group's respect and admiration far more than they fear the official law of the land. Men live on the respect and regard their fellows have for them. They will suffer hardships, make great sacrifices to hold that admiration and regard. It is their rock and their fortress. Children have an acute sense of this public regard. It is tragic to feel any loss of it.

Knowing this, the last thing one should do is to tell. Keep the wrongs-doing secret if possible. Never make a public exposure of a child or youth. Once he feels he has lost the respect of his community he has no incentive, no hope, to build on or go forward on. Hold fast for him, lend him the solace of silence in his hour of sorrow. You don't want to wreck him. You want to save him. Go about it discreetly.

I am not saying that children are not to bear the weight of their mistakes. They will in any case. I would have them face the mistake, confess it to themselves, if not to us, and set about making better use of their powers. I am pleading for the silence that shields tender young things from the blight of harsh publicity. It does no good, and it works measurable harm.

Newspapers are usually discreet about withholding the names of children who have gotten into trouble. It is no longer thought good school practice to call out offenders before the assembly and disgrace them publicly. It remains for the family, relatives and friends to use the same discretion about childish errors.

The records of school children are a professional secret. No teacher passes them along as interesting gossip. Home happenings are family affairs and no mother makes them public. Discretion is a virtue here.

BANDITS SLAIN IN GUN BATTLE

SMITHS CREEK, Mich., Nov. 2.—(UPI)—St. Clair county deputies, led by Sheriff William L. Van Antwerp, shot and killed two bandits in a gun battle at the post office early today.

The dead men were identified as Frank Nowaszek, 38, and Edward Scherer, 40, both of Detroit.

County officers said the men walked into a trap. After the bandits had been frightened off Sunday night, Sheriff Van Antwerp's forces and two Detroit postal inspectors gathered at the post office last night.

As the gunmen attempted to open the safe with an explosive charge, the officers ordered them to come out. The robbers fired. Police tossed a tear gas bomb into the post office and turned loose a barrage of machine gun and shot gun fire.

When the gas fumes cleared, the officers found the bodies of both bandits, riddled with 10 or more bullets in each.

Russell avenue bears the name of Roy Russell, hustling realtor, whose grand children will look back with pride on the street named after Grandpa. I could not find any poinsettias on Poinsettia, but old Santiago avenue brought visions of Portola, Padre Crespi and the pathfinder, Jose Francisco Ortega.

Long and unavailing search failed to find any family tree for Sullivan street on our western boundary, and the same sad result with little Warren. The kind-hearted city engineer, who kindly turned over all his maps to my disposal, said that it was so short that perhaps it did not matter any way.

Every town just has to have a Main street and it's all right when you don't want to cross it in thick traffic and the pedestrians don't take life too easy. I know that pedestrians have rights, but why prolong them when traffic is waiting, not around the corner, but right up to the red lines?

Almost every town in her excess of civic pride names a street after its mother, but where's Santa Ana street?

Santa Fe Street

The Santa Fe railroad gave us Santa Fe street, bringing it all the way from Santa Fe, New Mexico, which was named for the Holy Faith. Our presidents are honored by Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson and Garfield streets; the saints by Santa Clara, St. Gertrude and St. Andrews, but who were Camile, Rose, Daisy and Louise? Come on girls, and claim your streets. Church street commemorates Santa Ana's first two churches, the Methodist and Baptist.

No one seems to know anything about Buffalo avenue. The records show that Harry Stafford surveyed the tract in 1888, but was the name given by some tourist from Buffalo, New York, or did some emigrant from the great herds beyond the Rockies stray in here to startle the prehistoric natives? One old timer suggested that the little street just buffeted the town by not getting any farther away from Main than Broadway. Failing to get sufficient evidence for either theory we rest the case.

As the gunmen attempted to open the safe with an explosive charge, the officers ordered them to come out. The robbers fired. Police tossed a tear gas bomb into the post office and turned loose a barrage of machine gun and shot gun fire.

When the gas fumes cleared, the officers found the bodies of both bandits, riddled with 10 or more bullets in each.

C. OF C. NAMES RENTAL GROUP

Directors of the chamber of commerce are still undecided whether the organization shall build new home on leased property or rent offices in a downtown office building.

The board met yesterday and discussed all phases of the problem created when the board of supervisors refused to renew the chamber's lease on the site adjoining the Courthouse Annex, occupied by the chamber of commerce building for several years.

Site Favorable

The result of yesterday's meeting was the appointment of Fred Merker, Harry Hanson and C. H. Hoiles, directors, and Ivie Stein, representing the Merchants' Division of the chamber, as members of a committee to secure definite rental proposals as well as plans and cost estimates for construction of a new building.

When the board of supervisors refused to renew the chamber's lease to the county property they offered to pay the civic group $3500 for the present chamber of commerce building on the site. Several members of the board are said to be in favor of accepting the county offer and using the money for construction of a new building in the downtown area. One site that is said to have received favorable consideration is a portion of the Y. M. C. A. property facing the Hall of Records.

Three new members were accepted in the chamber of commerce by the directors. The new members are: Motor Fuels, Ltd.; Frank Brigante, of the Orange County Dental Laboratory and Macres Florist shop.

OFFICERS ELECTED BY CHURCH LEAGUE

Election of officers was the chief feature of the meeting of the Intermediate League of the Christian church of Santa Ana at the home of Katherine Haller, Tustin.

Following are the newly elected officers: Donna Jean Buck, president; Helen Vance, vice president; Dorothy Weiss, secretary; Edward Haller, treasurer; Mildred Kleaver, social chairman; and Kenneth Valentine, song leader.

Mrs. C. D. Hicks, wife of the pastor, was in charge of the meeting.

DRIVE CAREFULLY - SAVE A LIFE -

EXPOSITION MAGIC

This country broke out a few years ago with a regular rash of expositions. Most of them were mighty fine and yet, to an old-time devotee of the expositions of long ago, they seemed just a little flat. Maybe they had a little too much chromium, too many sharp angles, too much modernistic efficiency. Whatever it was, they didn't seem to cast the absurd and enchanting spell that old-time expositions used to exert.

But things are looking up. The Golden Gate Exposition at San Francisco in 1939 is going to have a Court of the Seven Seas—likewise a Court of the Caliphs (to be bathed in moonlight blue light with a green fountain) a Court of the Rising Sun, and a Court of Reflections.

We haven't the faintest idea what these courts will be like. But at least their names are right. They have that old fantastic fairyland flavor. If the San Francisco people have caught that flavor throughout, they ought to put on a fine exposition.

COPS AND CITIZENS

The day of the flat-footed, slow-witted copper is pretty definitely over in the United States. Today's policeman is rather apt to be an intelligent and well-trained peace officer who goes out and gets his man instead of scratching his head and wondering "now, who could have done that?"

Authority for this statement is none other than J. Edgar Hoover, head G-man. He made the statement in a speech before law enforcement officers in North Carolina, and he went on to explain why the old type of policeman is disappearing.

"There never was a place for him," he said, "yet he existed because of the lethargy of the people. But today the public is becoming more and more alert to the needs and necessities of good law enforcement."

That is a point that should not be overlooked. In this country of ours we get just about the kind of police work we ask for. As fast as we really insist on efficient, orderly, disciplined police forces, we get them. If we get the other kind it's really our own fault.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTING

Dr. C. G. Huston of Costa Mesa brings forcibly to mind that Christmas is not far off.

Dr. Huston this week issued his annual call for Christmas lighting along the Orange county coastline.

"Forty miles of smiles" was inaugurated by Dr. Huston years ago as part of the program of activities of the Associated Chambers of Commerce of Orange county. Its start was inauspicious, but with each succeeding year the Christmas lighting along the coastline has increased until now it is almost an institution.

And no one deserves more credit for this endeavor than Dr. Huston. It was his brain-child and he has kept it alive year by year. He devotes weeks of labor to insure its success. He personally contacts the civic leaders of each community and enlists their aid.

It is an inspiring sight to drive along the coastline during the Christmas holidays. Every community is brilliantly lighted. The highways are gaily decorated in colored lights and programs are held in most of the towns.

Thousands upon thousands of people from all Southern California are attracted to Orange county during the Christmas season.

For this Orange county owes a deep vote of gratitude to Dr. Huston.

FIXING THE FIXER

When Major Charles Spencer Hart, national exalted ruler of the Elks called upon the Elks throughout the nation to fight the "insidious evil" of traffic ticket fixing he started a national movement that was originated in Santa Ana by Police Chief Floyd W. Howard.

Last spring when Chief Howard launched his traffic drive in Santa Ana he realized that unless the traffic ticket fixing practice was stopped his drive wouldn't be worth anything. Consequently he went before the city council and asked for an ordinance making it a misdemeanor to "fix or attempt to fix" a traffic ticket. The council granted the request. And Chief Howard got results, and still gets them.

Major Hart primarily is interested in having his lodge do what it can to reduce the traffic accident toll. The anti-fixing campaign follows logically, since the common practice of fixing leads to disregard of traffic regulations, which, in turn, leads to accidents.

So Major Hart is urging every Elk in the United States to help make the fixing of traffic tickets an unpopular and unsportsmanlike practice. And the least any of us can do is wish him well in his campaign. The part that fixing plays in our traffic toll is too often overlooked. It is good to have attention focussed on it in this way.

But without legislation we don't think Major Hart's plan will get very far. The people have been urged to drive carefully, sanely and half a dozen other things, but until there is a penalty attached and laws enforced it will do no good.

Chief Howard's suggestion against ticket fixing wouldn't be worth the words he utters unless he were backed by the ordinance the city council passed.

KIND OF TEXT BOOKS

According to news dispatches the controversy over California text books is not one of price but of context of the books.

It certainly is misleading to read the headings of some of the metropolitan papers, such as "State School Board Halts Deal for Costly Text Books," and then read down in the column to find that the controversy is based on the context of the books.

It is easy to understand that new books printed up without the publishers being sure of a large sale, the first order would cost much more than some of the popular books sold in large numbers, to suit popular fancy of the educators.

Demoralizing School Children

One of the members of the State Curriculum Commission, Miss Alice Rose Power, asserts that school children are being "demoralized by progressive education." She argues that books submitted by the concern that had the higher price were conservative and would provide a better influence upon the children.

If this be true, it is not at all a question of price but a question of context of books and the news gathering organizations that confuse the issue are certainly doing a lot of harm by their careless presentation of the matter. If the concern that had a higher bid will write a text book that is consistent and sound and not, as the present text books are, so inconsistent and contradictory that the educators have to be constantly telling people not to judge the book by any part of it, then this expenditure might be the best investment the educators of California could possibly make. It might be infinitely cheap capital, with the inconsistent wish-picture books which are now being used in the California schools.

BETTER OFF TODAY

The American Institute of Public Opinion, known as the Gallop Survey, has recently reported results of a question prepared all over the United States, as follows:

"Considering your income and cost of living, do you feel you are better off today than a year ago?"

To this question, 38 per cent of the people questioned said "yes" and 62 per cent said "no."

The survey reports that this is the first time since Roosevelt has been in office that people did not feel they were better off the following year than the year before.

Now the only question facing the American people is why they are not better off than they were a year ago. If they believe, as our politicians and educators are teaching, that it is because of the avariciousness of the business man, then this means nothing from a political standpoint.

On the other hand, if they believe, as the survey seems to show, that part of their trouble is from the strikes running up the cost of labor, crop curtailment and high taxes, then it might indicate that people are beginning to question whether we can have more by having less, by restricting, by artificial wages, by taxes that are confiscatory which stops the capital from expanding and being a means of furnishing jobs.

With the steel mills now running less than 50 per cent and no one wanting to be in business, as indicated by the rapid decline in the stock market, there is certainly a very definite cause for our condition.

FREE LAND

One belief quite common is that we are having unemployment because there is little free land of any value available for those out of work.

But land without capital, no matter how fertile and productive, is of little value. If there were an unlimited amount of free land and the man who is out of work has no capital, it would be of no help to him.

It is capital that makes land valuable. The natural resources, without the equipment to convert them into the uses of men, are practically valueless.

What could a man do with a quarter of a section of land without oxen, horses, tractors, tools, live stock or seed?

PUBLIC SHRINKAGE REACHES HIGH TOTAL IN NEW YORK

In a city the size of New York the shrinkage in elementary school enrollment, now going on all over the country, makes a total that cannot escape notice. It is raising serious questions in that city as to why school costs are rising while school attendance is going down.

The Citizens' Budget Commission of New York has called on the Board of Education to explain why it has boosted its 1938 budget by $14,745,580 in the face of an accumulated shortage of more than 61,000 pupils since 1929, a shortage that the Board of Education itself estimates will reach 92,000 by the end of next year.

On the assumed New York standard of 35.9 pupils to a class a $2,000 shortage amounts to no fewer than 2,562 classrooms and teachers. Yet the Citizens' Budget Commission charges that the Board of Education's elementary school program for the year calls for a 5 per cent increase in the teaching force and a 23 per cent pay roll increase.

What New York is experiencing in its schools is appearing in its due proportion in other cities. Here and there some special condition may mask the movement momentarily, but by and large the shrinkage in the number of children is affecting the schools of every community. For the country at large the office of the United States Commissioner of Education estimates 1,000,000 fewer children in the elementary schools than there were eight years ago.

As this shrinkage is increasing year by year and will soon make itself felt in the high schools as well as in the elementary it must profoundly affect all school planning.

Because this phenomenon runs squarely against all previous experience in the United States a great many persons have been hard to convince that it was coming. But now it is here on such a scale that it cannot be mistaken. It can no longer be ignored.

General Hugh S. JOHNSON Says

of the governor of a state or a jockey to ride some sudden nation-shaking New Deal white rabbit as administrator, is news for a long while. But the selection of a new chairman of the board and a new president of the United States Steel Corporation is front page stuff for a day.

While some states are political empires, we have economic empires which are of far more concern to the daily living of hundreds of thousands, if not millions, of people than any political government under the sun. They are wealthier than some states. The number of people employed, or in some degree affected by what they do, is larger than the population of some states. They hire, they fire and they fix wages. They produce large proportions of our absolute necessities. Their earnings, or lack of them, affect the welfare of millions directly or indirectly.

They are, in a sense, the property of hundreds of thousands of stockholders who own, through stock, a right to their earnings. Through trusts, insurance companies and banks, which hold their securities as protection for savings or fortunes big and little, millions of people have an "equity" in them. Yet, though so many people have a stake in them, and they possess almost a power of economic life over so many others, they are not democracies.

As a fiction of law they are "artificial persons"—but they have no souls. They are a form of economic government supported to be run through a congress of directors elected by a majority of stockholders. These directors choose their supreme rulers. But stockholders are so scattered and indifferent that owners of a few sizeable minority blocks always choose their directors and, through these directors, the chief executives. It is a kind of oligarchy choosing a sultan and a grand vizier. These dignitaries take a responsibility surely heavier than the puppet crown of England and wield far more personal power.

For all these reasons, the selection of Edward Stettinius to be chairman of the board of Big Steel, and Ben Fairless to be its president, seems to me to be of greater importance to more people than who is Governor of Utah or Muddom Mulebrity, Secretary of Labor. Under the system of their choice, we might possibly have gotten Uriah Heep and Simon Legree. But we didn't.

Edgar Stettinius' father was my boss and close friend in the War, the cream of the crop of the great business executives of his day, and a faithful public servant. I knew his boy as a kid—a second Looney pulling every Washington wire he could reach—to be given combatant duty in France. He served with me later—a young man in a hot spot of strain and responsibility between the biggest shots in American industry and labor.

He left with the respect, admiration and affection of all of them on both sides of the argument. I'll tell you how good he is. If he were your son, your best friends would avoid you for talking about him all the time. I wish his father were here to know about this. The new head of Big Steel is human, able, modest, decent and fair. If all the workers, all the consumers and all the stockholders had elected a chairman, they couldn't have done better for themselves.

The president of U. S. Steel has always come, I believe, as Mr. Fairless has, from the ranks of labor. He carries on the tradition of James Farrel and Wm. Irwin. You can't better describe brave, honest, American ability.
